

Market research online survey for those living with chronic Immune Thrombocytopenia (ITP)

£120/60min

We are conducting a new Study for those living with chronic Immune Thrombocytopenia (ITP). The focus of the research is hearing your perspective and thoughts on informational materials and patient resources around ITP.

The method of this study will be:

Online community over 5 days (60 minutes overall)

We are currently inviting individuals who have:

- . ITP diagnosis for more than 12 months
- . Computer/laptop access

Why should I take part?

As a thank you for your participation we will pay you £120.00, which is payable as BACS or Amazon Voucher.

By sharing with us your experiences, needs and wishes you have a real opportunity to influence healthcare decisions and help guide development of patient support and information materials.

All answers provided are to be from your own personal experience and will only be used for internal analysis. These will not be published in any external documents, stimulus or communications.
